Variation to an Enforceable Undertaking between the Regulator and Ruediger
Constructions Pty Ltd accepted on 5/08/2025

The following variation to the Enforceable Undertaking between the Regulator and Ruediger Constructions Pty Ltd is proposed:

Under 3.2.6

Current:

The Company will pay for four leading hand site workers to attain scaffolding licensing. This will involve the workers' completing a 5-day training course on full pay

The PCBU will provide the Regulator with the following (evidence) to demonstrate compliance:

1. Invoice and payment records for the training provider
2. Training certificates (or alike).

Minimum Cost: $14,200.00 (inclusive of wages for attendance)

Timeframe: 6 months from acceptance (5 February 2026)

Replace:

Due to a significant reduction in employee numbers, the workplace now has only two leading hands, compared to four at the time the Enforceable Undertaking was originally negotiated.

The Company will now pay for two leading hand site workers and two carpenters to attain scaffolding licensing. This will involve the workers' completing the 5-day Basic Scaffolding training course on full pay. The company will also pay for any additional costs associated with processing fees associated with obtaining the High Risk Work Licence.

The PCBU will provide the Regulator with the following (evidence) to demonstrate compliance:

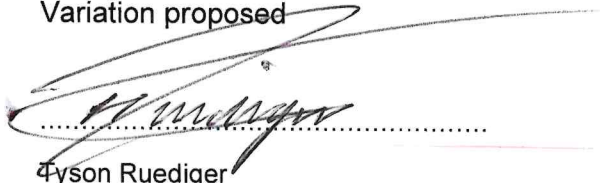

1. Invoice and payment records for the training provider
2. Training certificates (or alike).

Minimum Cost: $14,200.00 (inclusive of wages for attendance to the training).

The company has identified that the cost of the course and associated wages is unlikely to meet the original commitment of $14,200.00 and acknowledges that approval must be sought from the Regulator regarding the proposed use of any residual funds.

Timeframe: 3 months from acceptance of the variation.
