I Benjamin Reichstein am of the opinion that the PCBU has contravened the WHS legislation relating to:
Contravention	More information	Was the contravention rectified?
Not maintaining a safe work environment	Suspected contravention: that employees hired as part of the 2023 vintage intake have received inadequate safety training, particularly handling caustic. Investigation revealed some deficiencies in the online induction, in particular the ability to skip important safety videos. Some long term employees felt they were under serious pressure by the requirement to provide training during vintage. However overall it appeared that new employees received good on-the-job safety training.	Yes
Unsafe use, handling and storage of plant, structures and substances	See above.	Yes

Other	At the request of SafeWork Senior Inspector Paul Bozzetti we are including further details about the inspection. After initially being refused entry to the site when we arrived at approximately 1:30pm we were given access at approximately 4pm. We reached agreement with the PCBU about the logistics of the inspection. We were accompanied by the site WHS coordinators. We consulted with the PCBU after interviewing workers and examining the caustic stations.	Yes
